“Therefore go and make disciples of all nations ... teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you.”

Matthew 28:19-20a NIV

New Strategy in Malawi

In March JRM began a new partnership with YouTurn Ministries in Malawi. YouTurn has begun five new pastor training centers and has plans to begin three more in the near future.

JRM has agreed to provide each center with Emmaus Bible studies for every new cohort of 20 pastors-in-training as the discipleship portion of their academic curriculum. Each month for two years the new pastors convene in a central location for five consecutive days to study the Bible studies and simplified seminary courses. Back in their home villages, they are planting and pastoring new churches where they begin their work as Emmaus mentor/trainers.

We thank God for the opportunity to train, equip, and support hundreds of these new Bible teachers. Learn more at jerichoroad.org.

Report from South Central Africa

In September Rick Carr, Mike Burns, and Alan Huesing traveled with Zambia National Directors Pastor Dickson Kasongo and Mulengwani Mweyama across Zambia and Malawi on the T2 Highway to attend six graduations.

The first graduation was at Sunnyside Baptist Church near Lusaka. The congregation sang, prayed, and students gave testimonies before Rick delivered the charge to the graduates explaining how the Bible was written, copied, preserved, translated, and passed down to us.

Nineteen students completed the required 154 Bible studies and passed all tests in Level 1 to receive their diplomas and a copy of the bilingual (English and Chichewa) New Testaments. Unfortunately, some of the students scheduled to graduate that day never made it to the church. They were traveling as a group from a distant village in an old bus. Police stopped and detained them as they approached the city. Although the ceremony was delayed by almost two hours waiting for the students, it took the group so long to satisfy the police that they missed the entire ceremony. It happens.

New Strategy for Churches in America

Many churches in America would like to "go to all nations and make disciples," but don't know where or how to start. JRM's strategy helps churches "go" to nations in South Central Africa. For 15 years, our purpose has been to train, equip, and support Africans to make disciples, who then become disciple-makers who continue the process. Bibles, teaching materials, and training are distributed through a huge network of zone leaders and area coordinators (A/Cs) throughout Zambia and Malawi. Each A/C coordinates up to 12 trainers who each mentor up to 20 students each year.

Beginning in 2020, JRM is inviting churches, small groups, even families to "sponsor" an A/C. Through a web-based system, sponsors can communicate with their A/C, their trainers, and all of their students in the area, as well as track, in real time, the progress of each student.

Sponsorship involves three commitments:

1. Pray for your A/C, mentors, and students;
2. Encourage them through e-mail, WhatsApp, and other online media; and
3. Support them through JRM with a monthly financial gift to subsidize the cost of Bibles and study booklets and annual training.

Imagine supporting an A/C - essentially your own missionary - in Africa. Watch the website jerichoroad.org

New Executive Director

In September Alan Huesing became our new Executive Director. He comes to JRM with a lifetime of experience in international mission work and cross-cultural education.

He and his wife Sheryl served for several years as mission workers in the Philippines, Taiwan, and Mainland China. They also served the public schools of Marshall, TX, as English Second Language teachers. Alan served seven years as a strategist for the North American Mission Board in Atlanta, GA, and for 18 years as International Director at East Texas Baptist University in Marshall, TX.

Alan and Sheryl are members of Mobberly Church in Marshall where they direct the Engage outreach and evangelism program. They have three grown children - all serving in ministry - and three young grandchildren.
